Line-Up for To-Day

RYAN'S—Hunting, 2b; Newton, ss; Hoke, 3b; Berger, 1b; Gray, rf; Grimes, p. PORTSMOUTH—Hoy, cf; O'Keefe, 2b; Whitted, 3b; McIlwain, ss; Hurley, 1b; Hilly, 2b; Folles, 1b; Tee, c; Ryan, c; Grimes, p.

Game starts at 4:30 o'clock.

This afternoon at Broad Street Park Ryan's Colts will entertain the Truckers in the first of a three-game series, and in order to get the jump on the visitors, the local manager will send Grimes to the mound, with Worth at the receiving end.

Last week Newport News and Norfolk put a cramp into the local team, and it is the intention of Ryan to climb at the expense of the fall-ers. Thursday, Friday and Saturday the locals will pasture at Petersburg, and the going in that city is likely to be a little rough.

With the line-up arranged as it will remain the balance of the season the Colts should get down to business, and thereby overhaul Roanoke and Norfolk, respectively, and bring the second half of the season's pennant to Richmond and participate in a post-season championship series.

Schweitzer Has Made Good. Schweitzer, the new center fielder, while not measuring up to the standard set by some of the fans, handles himself in a manner that brands him a valuable addition to the line-up. He has shown that he is there with the bunch when needed, as he was in the large measure responsible for the rally in the first game Friday that sent the Tars down to defeat. As a fielder he handles himself like a veteran, and when he becomes thoroughly acquainted with his teammates the fans will likely see him perform in an entirely satisfactory manner.

A few of the fans sat in the grand stand Friday and Saturday, and because the newcomers failed several times began to roast him. This is not good sportsmanship, and the manager and the player to give his best efforts. One word of encouragement instead of a word of criticism would do much to help the team.

This afternoon will be Kiddies' day. Both girls and boys will be admitted free. The girls will go into the grand stand, while the boys will take the bleachers.

TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS TO-START AUGUST 24

Edwin F. Torrey, secretary of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, announced the program for the thirty-fourth annual all-comers championship tournament. The meeting will be held at the Casino Club, Newport, R. I., and will include singles, the challenge match of the championship doubles, and the intercollegiate national final.

Foreign players now in this country for the Davis cup matches may compete only in the singles, according to a decision of the executive committee. Play will begin August 24, and continue through the next week. By the erection of new stands the seating capacity at the championship court has been increased to accommodate 7,000 spectators. The challenge match in the doubles, in which Maurice McHale, Lin and Thomas C. Bundy, California, will play against the winners of the East West South and Pacific Coast series, will be decided on Tuesday morning, August 25. The intercollegiate championship contest will begin August 26.

CLARENCE CARMEN SETS NEW MOTOR-PACED RECORD

Brighton Beach, August 2.—Clarence Carmen, of Jamaica, won the feature race at the Brighton Beach motor track this afternoon, a motor-paced event, in three heats at ten miles each.

Carmen made a new record, his time being 11:32.25, which will likely stand as a new record for some time. Bobby Wainwright held the former record for pace followers riding behind seven-horsepower machines without protection, the time being 12:04.2.

Carmen won all three heats in the race, totaling 30 miles. He was followed by Wainwright, with nine points; Ernest Day, third, with five points, and Jimmy Moran, fourth, with four points.

TWO BALL PLAYERS INJURED

Lincolnburg, August 2.—R. E. Hughes and Samuel Boaz, local amateur baseball players, were painfully injured in a game at York, Pa. (Christian Association playground Saturday), when they collided in an effort to get a fly ball. Both were received in the hospital about the head in the collision.

Atlanta, August 2.—Mobile, New Orleans and Birmingham continue to be in a close race for the pennant. Mobile, which won the Southern Association for the week just closed, Atlanta, which won the Southern Association for the week just closed, and Birmingham, which won the Southern Association for the week just closed, are all in a close race for the pennant.

NO YACHT RACE IN EVENT OF WAR—LIPTON

London, August 2.—Sir Thomas Lipton declared to-day he had decided if war broke out next September for the America's cup.

Baby Reliance V. Makes New American Record

A new American record for a thirty-nautical-mile course was established by the Baby Reliance V., the winner of the first race for the Gold Challenge Cup, driven by J. Stuart Blackton, commodore of the Atlantic Yacht Club, Brooklyn.

The Baby Reliance averaged 51.5 statute miles, or 43.7 nautical miles, an hour. The second boat in, the Baby Speed Demon II., which won the second day's race, also established a new record, coming in only 3.8 seconds behind the Baby Reliance.

LITTLE MEN MAKE GOOD IN BASEBALL

Spirit in Man, Rather Than the Size, Is What Makes the Ball Player.

Some one has revived the question whether big men or little men play the better baseball. The question is a good deal like the one discussed among players, whether nine Walter Johnstons could beat nine Ty Cobs. But it is interesting.

Little Team. O'Neill, Cleveland, and Schalk, White Sox, catchers; Cletto, White Sox, and Fish, Chicago Feds, pitchers; Melins, first base; Evers, second base; Maranville, shortstop; Malish, third base; Leach, Milan and Elmer, outfield.

Tall Men. McLean, catcher; Main, Davenport and Falkenberg, pitchers; Knight, first base; Cuthbert, second base; McBrine, shortstop; Zimmerman, third base; Olin, Campbell and Hyatt, outfield.

One can pick a "little" team that probably would win a tall team just as easily.

Undoubtedly the style of ball players now runs to the strong, big fellows, especially in the pitching line. Four out of every five pitchers in the major leagues now are close to six feet and 200 pounds. Styles have changed wonderfully. The managers are after men with the weight and strength to stand the wear and tear of a season, or of a dozen seasons, but the little men are not barred.

Look back over the lists. Anson, DeCathart, Young, Comiskey, Williamson, were giants of men. Anson wanted huge fellows with driving power behind him. On the other hand, Hugh Bennett was at his greatest at 140 pounds. Willie Keeler weighed about 125. McGraw was a little man. Griffith, Cunningham, Radbourne, Billy Sullivan and scores of great players were small.

Tip O'Neill weighed ninety-eight pounds when he was catching 200-pound pitchers, who took a five-foot run and hurled the ball at him from fifty feet in the air.

If one were to select a type it would be the fellow about five feet ten inches slender, broad-shouldered, little and fast, that would best represent the game.

YACHT CLUB DECIDES TO CONTINUE CRUISE

New London, Conn., August 2.—After a long meeting this afternoon aboard the flagship Sea Fox, the New York Yacht Club decided to continue the cruise from here to Newport to-morrow morning, with a start at 10 o'clock.

At first war news which had come to the yachtsmen gave them the impression that it might be advisable to discontinue the cruise.

A meeting will be held at Newport as soon as the fleet arrives regarding further continuance on to Vineyard Sound Tuesday. It is more than likely that the run to the Vineyard and return to Newport will be abandoned.

The five cup defensive skiffs, Vulture and Resolute, will continue to race until further notice, according to the members of the regatta committee of the New York club.

PEACE IN ENGLAND London, August 2.—Strong evidence that the crisis in the affairs of the empire will be so much to settle the rule disturbance was received to-night. General Richardson, commanding the British volunteers, said Sir Edward Carson's offer of their services to the nation had been heartily endorsed by the Ulster men.

The acquisition of the well-drilled, soundly-equipped forces organized to fight the enforcement of home rule would be of more than nominal value to the War Office. That the offer will be cordially accepted is practically certain.

Whether the Irish Nationalist volunteers will follow this action of their political opponents is not yet known.

ANOTHER CASE OF PLAGUE New Orleans, August 2.—Another case of bubonic plague, the fourteenth since the contagion appeared here more than a month ago, and the first in the past eight days, was announced to-day by Dr. William C. Rucker, in charge of the plague eradication work.

Henry Chase, twenty-two, a negro, was taken ill on July 29, and to-day his malady was officially declared to be plague. He is expected to die.

GERMANS CROWDING IRISH OUT OF GAME

Only a Few Sons of Erin Remain in Baseball Hall of Fame.

The Irish seem to be disappearing from baseball, and their ancient and honorable enemies—the Germans—seem to be horning their way into the Hall of Fame, that once was peopled almost altogether by the sons of Erin.

A recent list of averages for the American League shows only two out-and-out Irish names among a list of fifty pitchers. This pair was Collins, of the Red Sox, and McHale, of the Yankees. Against these there are fifteen pitchers who have unmistakable German names, and about six others whose names may be German—and may or may not be.

But whatever they are, they aren't Irish. Forty-five pitchers were in the National League list, and only four had Irish-sounding names—Ragon, of the Dodgers; Ames, of the Reds; McGuill and O'Toole, of the Pirates. And there is a question as to whether Ames, despite his red hair, is an Irishman. Fourteen real German names appear in the pitching list, and there are about seven other twirlers whose names seem to have a German flavor.

In the American League batting list, that included all hitters over 200, there were seventy-five names. The Irish had a somewhat better representation there than in the pitching line, but it wasn't enough to give them cause for celebration, for once again the Germans outnumbered the Irish. The list showed fifteen sure-going Irish names, against twenty real German and six other names that sounded suspiciously German.

In the National League batting list the Irish were worsted, the out-and-out being twenty-two Germans, against seventeen of the other race.

TYRUS COBB IS AGAIN LEADING THE LEAGUE

Detroit Tiger's Outfielder Manages to Top Ban Johnson's Batters by Small Margin.

BURNS RATED AS A STAR Giant Ranks With Jackson, Milan and Speaker, and Is Hitting the Pellet Over 300—Mathewson a Golf Expert.

Ty Cobb seems to be leading in the general direction of his other years in first company—the batting leadership of the American League.

Tyrus isn't slumping them out with the frequency of 1911-12-13, but there's a reason, the reason being that he doesn't have to. No one in the league just now shows any signs of finishing the year with 100, or anywhere near that total, so why should Ty Cobb exert himself?

Tyrus has a habit of never trying to make a runaway race of the batting business. To lead and to let others follow, close enough to make things a bit interesting—that's Ty's method.

Before Josephus Jackson busted into the clubbing contest in the American League Ty was content to club around 150, which was quite enough to give him the leadership. But Josephus, after really getting under way, soaked the leather for 195 or so. And Ty—oh, he went 129. That was enough to beat Jackson in a convincing fashion. And to come to 300, it's quite likely that Ty would have taken notice of Joe's bet and raised his average to about 315 or 318.

Joe gave Ty another 100 battle and once again Ty was out—by just enough to make the victory decisive. Last year Ty batted only 300 or so. But it was enough, because Jackson dropped to 375.

This year Ty got away to a lead start, but in the next eight weeks he has been hitting an average of 300 or so. He has been back to the old place at the top. His lead isn't large, but that isn't Ty's idea of a batting battle. He likes to keep competition close—and then breeze in under the October wire ahead by a fairly noticeable margin.

Ty has led the league seven years in a row. And this looks like number eight.

The National League is tooting George Burns, of the Giants, as an outfielder who ranks with the great American League quarter—Cobb, Jackson, Speaker and Milan. Burns is not as spectacular as the American Leagueers, but his averages this year show him to be considerable of an all-around outfielder.

Burns is batting well over 300, and his hitting is extremely timely. He has failed to deliver in a pinch, but he is a better thrower than Cobb or Jackson, is putting as many wonderful fielding stunts as the great Yankee, and seems to be without nerves and absolutely cool in the temperamental stuff that detracts so much from the usefulness of stars.

Can Honus Wagner make it eighteen years over the 300 mark? This is the question that is being asked. Wagner now almost as much as the out—who will participate in the world's series? The tie for all November's records, watching the game effort of the veteran.
